Extreme Sports - Tow In Surfing (this is the art of riding giant waves that normal paddle-surfers are not able to catch due their sheer size and speed. Aided by jet-skis, these Tow Surfers ride monster waves of unprecedented size).

This documentary style movie tells the story of the sport of Tow In Surfing and gives the viewer a better understanding of who these athletes are, why they do it, the inherent dangers and the sheer adrenaline charged atmosphere of the sport. This movie appeals to lay person and the surfers alike. It features some of the most amazing images captured in Hawaii and supports it with a solid documentary style storyline.
